

Ana Carolina,

mgoa
J vou dizendo de antemo
Se eu encontrar com voc
T com trs pedras na mo
Eu sô queria distncia
da nossa distncia
Sa por a procurando uma contramo

Acabei chegando na sua rua
Na dvida qual era a sua janela Lembrei que era pra cada um ficar na sua
Mas que at a minha solido
tava na dela

Atirei uma pedra na sua janela
E logo correndo me arrependi
Foi o medo de te acertar
Mas era pra te acertar
e disso eu quase me esqueci

Atirei outra pedra na sua janela
Uma que no fez o menor rudo
No quebrou, no rachou, no deu em nada
E eu pensei:
"talvez voc tenha me esquecido..."

Eu sô no consegui foi te acertar o corao Porque eu j era o alvo
de tanto que eu tinha sofrido
A nem precisava mais de pedra Minha raiva quase transpassa
a espessura do seu vidro

... mgoa
O que eu choro gua com sal
Se der um vento, maremoto
Se eu for embora, no sou mais eu
gua de torneira no volta
E eu vou embora
Adeus...

It's sorrow
I'd better warn you beforehand
If I meet you out there
I've got three stones in my hand
I was just looking for distance from the distance between us
So I wandered around in a search for the wrong way

I ended up here on your street
Wondering which window was yours
I remembered that each one of us was supposed to get on with their lives
But the point was that even my loneliness was doing so

I threw a stone at your window
And right away I regretted on having done that

It was the fear of hitting you
But it was supposed to hit you and I almost forgotten about it

I threw another stone at your window
But this one made no noise at all
Didn't shatter, didn't crack, didn't do anything
And I thought,
maybe you've forgotten about me

I just couldn't manage to hit your heart Because now the target was myself, after all the much I had suffered
And now no more stones were necessary
My rage could almost get through the thickness of your window glass

Yeah it's sorrow
Salty water is what I cry
If a breeze blows, there comes a seaquake
If I run away, it's just not me
Water never climbs back the faucet
And I am going now
Goodbye
