

Ana Johnston, Here I Go Again

I wanna taste the bitter sweet - yeah
I wanna start a riot, in these city streets
I dont wanna live life on repeat - no
I wanna crash everything, in the presidential suite

[Chorus]

Here I go again
And I feel so good, yeah I feel so fine
Like a hurricane
Im gonna fall again, Im gonna cross the line
I cant wait another day (no)
Im ready to be blown away
Here I go again
Always looking for a thrill - yeah
I love the chaos, when I start a fire drill
Ive got so much time to kill
I keep making promises, I know I cant fulfill

[Chorus]

Here I go again
And I feel so good, yeah I feel so fine
Like a hurricane
Im gonna fall again, Im gonna cross the line
I cant wait another day
Im ready to be blown away
Here I go again
Some days, frustration is on
Feeling out of place, and all hope is gone
In so many ways, the temptations too strong
Its all good, when its wrong
I wanna make somebody pay
I wanna speak although, Ive got nothing to say
Anything to make my day
Ill run you over, if youre standing in my way

[Chorus x 2]

Here I go again
And I feel so good, yeah I feel so fine
Like a hurricane (like a hurricane)
Im gonna fall again, Im gonna cross the line
I cant wait another day
Im ready to be blown away
Here I go again
Here I go again
Here I go again
