

Anberlin, Said And Done

Well here we are again, right where we ended long ago.
You didn't learn, and I didn't listen to my friends.
Where do we go from here?
Tried to walk away, look at us now.
We're back in each other's way.

You just keep wearing me out (wearing me out), but I'm wearing you down.
You still keep wearing me out. but I'm wearing you down.

Should be over this by now. fill me up to beat me down.
I ain't crawling back to you. crawling back to you.
When all all is done and said, there's a part of me that's dead.
Nearly giving up on you. giving up on you

I know how this will end, love loss and regrets.
You leave upset, I end up losing my best friend.
Sounds too good to be true, one more minute hard on the line.
One more time, you're not willing to work this through.

And now it's said and done.
I'll be moving right along.
And I'm giving up on you.