

And One, Deliverance

He is lying at the corner and waiting for helping hands
he is lying at the corner
and waiting for the deliverance for the deliverance

he had nothing to hope and to say and the neon lights goes on another night for him without sorrows without hopes

and the night is coming down and the rain is coming down he is sitting there and everybody dont care