

And The Hero Fails, A Massacre Prevents A War

A bullet right through the back of their heads
In the case of those who have questioned the cause
Stem the movement by the children by the options
Start a famine if to prevent a war

An eye for an eye a child for a child
Hurry the poor to defend our glory
Their costs will press our cause
Well wear the innocent
Well spread the rhetorics deceit
This will cement our life
This will impress

Well terrorize by night
Outdo the death
Leave all there for the men to see, realize

Deny them pride
Deny them food to live
Deny them life
Well make them awe and courage fade

Wear red cloth of the king the pride

Deny them pride
Deny them food to live
Deny them life
Well make them awe and courage fade

Well carry them in alive and bury them one by one,
But one alive is worth five dead

A bullet right through the back of their heads
In the case of those who have questioned the cause
Stem the movement by the children by the options
Start a famine if to prevent a war
