

Anders Holst, Told You A Thousand Times

The colors are darker shades of grey
Feels like the fog will never go away
Threading on night thin ice laid down for me
In a mystery
I told you a thousand times or more
You always wanted to open the door
To heaven?
I have been waiting here for eternity
Standing on the edge, cause
Heaven knows what you mean to me
I tumble down to the turbulent sea
Your soul so enlightened free
Sometimes you leave when you have to stay
Whatever got hold of you or came in your way
If anything?

I have been waiting here for eternity
Standing on the edge, cause
Heaven knows what you mean to me
I tumble down to the turbulent sea
Your soul so enlightened free
Told you a thousand times or more
You always wanted to open the door
To heaven
I have been waiting here for eternity
Standing on the edge, cause
Heaven knows what you mean to me
I know there where times when we disagree
I tumble down to the turbulent sea
Your soul so enlightened and free
