

Anders Manga, Solitary Heaven

The kind words that you've always spoken,
are the last words that you will be choking down...
You've been away too long.

Sweat pores from your swollen flesh,
As you gasp for a deeper breath...
You've been away for far too long...

Solitary Heaven, don't walk on by,
The sky is crying sin.
Solitary Heaven, the victimized,
I'm bound by knots, from within.
Solitary Heaven, the wind won't cry,
The walls are falling in.
Solitary Heaven, the victimized,
I bound my love, from within.

The last laugh you're anticipating,
in the burned out hate you are escalating is out, cold.
You've been away too long.

The empty souls and the maverick fakers
Have been pulled out by the undertakers, and you know...
You've been away too long..

Solitary Heaven, don't walk on by,
The sky is crying sin.
Solitary Heaven, the victimized,
I'm bound by knots, from within.
Solitary Heaven, the wind won't cry,
The walls are falling in.
Solitary Heaven, the victimized,
I bound my love, from within.