

Andi Deris, Child Of My Fear

All I had now is gone
Was not always alone
Not yet shed my last tear
For the child of my fear

What's true for my eyes
Could be all made up in disguise
Once out there now is here
It's the child of my fear

These words I'm singing
These days I'm giving
These tears I'm paying
But my child of fear is staying on and on...

It tells lies over me
Or I'm not what I think to be
Gave up all that was dear
For the child of my fear

Like a silent thief
Stole my faith, my belief
What was doubt now is clear
I'm the child of my fear

These words I was singing
These days I was giving
These tears I was paying
But my child of fear was staying

These roads I'd taken
Seemed all mistaken
Now the truth was spoken
And I feel the spell is broken, gone, forever gone...
