

Andreas Johnson, Night Stood Still

It's so fatal babe, just like gold So demanding in the end To grasp and hold
It's a stake out, a frame to suit you It's so common here today
And it sure will hurt you
So dream-dream away
From me now
From me babe
I gave you love
Held you close
When the night stood still
I brought you home
Bailed you out
When the night stood still It's so lethal babe, just like magic
and it comes to you
at night like clockwork and it's all so tragic
so dream-dream away
from me now
from me babe
i gave you love
held you close
when the night stood still
i brought you home
bailed you out
dream away
let the night wrap his arms all around you stay away from the wicked faces coming down to haunt you you gave me love
held me close
when the night stood still
you brought me home bailed me out
