

Android Lust, Fell the Empty Mask

You've set the stage
For a revolution
Surrounded by those
Who share your persuasion

I know the likes of you
I'd know it any place
This mask of a holy man
That you wear to hide your face

Something inside
Is slipping by
This thing inside is slipping by

You say you'd protect me
But you'd have to change the rules
And I should just understand
Do you think me such a fool

I know your every move
I've caught on your little game
Still I see you hanging on
Go hide your head in shame

We'll watch you fall
