

Aneta Sablik, We Could Be Lions

I know you're wanting something
With your bow and arrow
Cutting at my heart strings
I'm just saying hello
Now my head is thinking
That makes me worry

I knew it from the get-go
Knew you'd get me freaking
Trying to keep my head low
But I got a feeling
Something that we both now
That makes me worry

We could be lions
We could ignite
The fire of passion in our eyes
We could be giants
We could be fighters
We Could be strong

We could be lions
We could explode
All that you need and all I want
We could be lions
We could be tigers
We could belong

We could be lions, we could be tigers.

Throw my hair on your skin
Feel your body shaking
Tell me what's the meaning
Why you getting, tell me
Now my eyes are speaking
Does that make you worry?

See you when I'm sleeping
That's when I touch your body
Dream and make believing
That you say you feel me
I can keep a secret
Does that make you worry?

We could be lions
We could ignite
The fire of passion in our eyes
We could be giants
We could be fighters
We Could be strong

We could be lions
We could explode
All that you need and all I want
We could be lions
We could be tigers
We could belong

Without you my heart hurts
What I need is to make you mine tonight
Mine tonight

Lose your guard, I'll be the first
What you need is to be mine tonight

Mine tonight

We could be lions
We could ignite
The fire of passion in our eyes
We could be giants
We could be fires
We Could be strong

We could be lions
We could explode
All that you need and all I want
We could be lions
We could be tigers
We could belong

We could be lions, we could be tigers
We could be lions, we could be tigers
