

Anette Olzon, Falling

Weary glowing moonlight
Changes I pass their way
Distant breath
Shadows on my face
Sensing instant echo
From past 'til the present
Can't ease the pounding of my heart

Moments come and moments go!

I'm falling
From the mysteries in mind
All the time
I'm holding
The once I left behind
I'm falling down
Out of sight
I'm falling without

Shadow distant whisper
No one hear of feel my fear
Cursing those who took my heart
Knowing magic happens
Faith, cross, angels coming
Take me home
Make me whole again

I'm falling
From the mysteries in mind
All the time
I'm holding
The once I left behind
I'm falling down
Out of sight

Can't stop and show my face
I'm gonna go insane
The looks you show are strangers to my pain
The wishes that I had in the past
They are gone
Oh they're just so gone!

I'm falling without

I'm falling
From the mysteries in mind
All the time
I'm holding
The once I left behind
I'm falling down
Out of sight
I'm falling without

From the mysteries in mind
All the time
I'm holding
The once I left behind
I'm falling down
Out of sight
I'm falling without
