

Angel Faith, Love Is

Love is being a chair that a tired man can sit in Love is being the shade from the sun that he can sit in Love is being a soldier to fight for what you believe in
And love is giving
Love is being a fountain in the desert she can drink from
Love is seeing a storm and offering protection
Love is the giving of both hands to catch the tears in motion
And love is open

Chorus

Love is deep as is wide, and taller than tall
Love is stronger than steel
Still it bends thru it all
It's everything
A wounded hearts wing
Love is, love is, love is
All of those things

Love is being a candle that will chase away the darkness
Love is being the strength to someone who is defenseless
Love is praying for those who are searching for forgiveness
And love, love is children

Chorus

Love is deep as is wide, and taller than tall
Love is stronger than steel
Still it bends through it all
It's everything
A wounded hearts wing
Love is, love is, love is
All of those things

Oooooohhhh yeah

Chorus

Love is deep as is wide, and taller than tall
Love is stronger than steel
Still it bends through it all
It's everything
A wounded hearts wing
Love is, love is, love is
All of those things

All of those things
All of those things
