

Angelas Dish, The Light On

You think we could sift in through the ashes
Of broken trust or tired eyes
You think we could capture thoughts or feelings?
Or burn our memories tonight? Oh...
And i still remember words you whispered
And I still remember games you used to play
And i still remember when you looked into my eyes and said
"i'll be your's forever"
I've changed but i feel the same i'm dreaming
Cause i was your's
I said girl "take one look at me now and just feel my heart beat
Cause i was your's"
You made me feel like i could face the day
Just one look in your eyes darling
I knew things would be ok
Your kind words like an addictive drug
And i'm afraid you're a habit baby
One that i don't want to give up
So i'm keeping the light on
Keeping the light on
Keeping the light on for you
Keeping the light on
Keeping the light on
Keeping the light on for you
So i'm keeping the light on
Keeping the light on
Keeping the light on for you
Keeping the light on
Keeping the light on for you
You...
