

Angelo Kelly, Nothing

Strike me first hit me down, down to the ground
Have me cursed lay them cards hide underground
Don't you thirst for some light some air a simple sound
It will burst the fall will come it won't take long
The fall will come, the fall will come
The fall will come, the fall
All I feel is nothing, all I felt has gone away
All I feel is nothing 'cause sometimes nothing, nothing seems
Nothing seems to be the only way
The only way
Turn me off pull the plug press restart
Make me tough make me lose my soul, lose my heart
It's enough starting to break I'm starting to fall apart
Where's the love the fall will come it won't take long
The fall will come, the fall will come
The fall will come, the fall
All I feel is nothing, all I felt has gone away
All I feel is nothing 'cause sometimes nothing, nothing seems
Nothing seems to be the only way
The fall will come, the fall will come
The fall will come, the fall will come
The fall will come, the fall will come
The fall will come
All I feel is nothing, all I felt has gone away
All I feel is nothing 'cause sometimes nothing, nothing seems
The only way
