

Angie Aparo, Hard Woman

She would love to be free
From the lonesomeness
It's so easy to be
The girl nobody gets
Hard woman to love
But I know she ain't so tough
A hard woman to love
Like a little girl when we touch
She walks out in the rain
So you won't forget
She's got room to complain
Now that she's soaking wet
Hard woman to love
But I know she ain't so tough
A hard woman to love
Like a little girl when we touch
Bring her flowers, candy canes
Love her for hours
Just don't let the screen go slam
On your way out
Hard woman to love
But I know she ain't so tough
A hard woman to love
Like a little girl when we touch
