

Animal Alpha, In The Barn

How could I know He had it all But the Devil got his chance to take the full control I think they had a deal I look forward now it was for real
You know your lie, it will never die Oh Lord, I'm giving in
You know your lie
What's the reason why?
Oh Lord, I'm giving in
You greedy man, my heart is aching
This silent night, I felt so sick I saw the barn, I recognized the smell of what I had revealed, vaginas in jars
One day you found the lid was loose
You know you're better but someone knows
You know you got to clean the slate set the time
You know that you've dreamt about this
This covers your crime
He rolled over in their bed and calmly said to her
"Yes, those golden curls are surely to die for"
