Anna Calvi, As a Man

if I was a man I all but my body would I now understand you completely if I was a man in all but my body if I was walking and talking as a man oh it is dark and no you will meet me something has changed I feel it discreetly now, I feel now I feel you completely