

Anna Jantar, Dancing in Your Arms

Dancing in your arms
It's good to be
Lost in all your charms
It's good to be
Feeling out of home
It's good to be
Don't say our love affair is true
Must we close the door to happiness
It's you that I adore, well can't you guess?
Can't stand any more this loneliness
Please give me a last rendez-vous!
Blue the sky and green the grass
So goes the simple saying
But who will teach me not to cry
When I loose everything?
Dancing In your arms
It's good to be
Lost in all your charms
It's good to be
Feeling out of home
It's good to be
Don't say our love affair is true
Must we close the door to happiness
It's you that I adore, well can't you guess?
Can't stand any more this loneliness
Please give me a last rendez-vous!
Blue the sky and green the grass
So goes the simple saying
But who will teach me not to cry
When I loose everything?
Blue the sky and green the grass
So goes the simple saying
But who will teach me not to cry
When I loose everything?
