

Annihilator, Punctured

Forgive me nothing 'cause I want it all
I want it all
Forgive me nothing, I meant it all
And I was laughing the closer you crawled
You're coming closer, the warmth of your skin
I'm taking my time, wanna watch it begin
To puncture the skin, to puncture your soul
To puncture the dream because reality's cold
I'll blacken the night and black out the sun
We'll blacken the world and then we'll see what's begun
Yeah, yeah
Punctured, go
I say punctured
What, you don't believe me?
I told you that I was lying, lying again
And you believed it, you believed you could win
Well, I punctured the skin, I punctured the soul
I punctured the dream because I'm in control
I'll blacken the night, I'll blacken the sun
We'll blacken the world and then we'll see what's begun
Yeah, yeah

Punctured, go
I say punctured
Come on, go
I'll take my time and break your mind
Your forehead pressed into the ground
I'll watch you kneel, I'll hear you squeal
You're lost and never found, never found, no
Forgive me nothing 'cause I meant it all
I punctured the skin, I punctured the soul
I punctured the dream because I'm in control
I'll blacken the night and black out the sun
I'll blacken the world and then we'll see what's begun
I punctured the skin, I punctured the soul
I punctured the dream because I'm out of control
I'll blacken the night and black out the sun
I'll blacken the world and then we'll see what's begun
We'll blacken the world and then we'll see just what's begun
Punctured
