Annihilator, WTYD

Annihilator Alice In Hell W T Y D

"Death seen through the eyes of the dying and a summons from the great beyond to join the masses of lapsed lives. Mystery and, sometimes, fantasy. Theory and legend. The plight of dying or the fight to freedom? A supernatural transition to a world that is known only in dreams and in death. Welcome..."

Catch a shooting star, burn it to a crisp Born into death, will you take the risk See buckets and buckets, yeah buckets of sin You'll never end and can never begin

Welcome to your death Welcome to your death Welcome to your death

No forest of pleasure or fields of pain High-rise at night see the pavement of stain A beckoning hand from those who were slain Now you can sleep again

Welcome to your death Welcome to your death Welcome to your death

I take the night and I stretch it wide And I see all, you hide, I died So slip right in, sip the wine The caution flashes but the water's fine

Welcome to your death Welcome to your death Welcome to your death
