Break Out The Wall

Baby why are you so sad?
What's the thing your running from?
Caught in the red light.
As if money is the cure
Is this your only way to survive?
Are you trying to get even with the past
What happened to the dreams you had?
I think it's time for you, to Show them you are able.
To leave without saying one word
I know it won't be easy, baby
But i will run with you
Cause every night has a day
Every wish has a prayer
Don't loose your faith
And I'll be holding your hand
Cause it's never too late
There's someone who needs you
So break down that wall, baby
There's a new world out there waiting
Just tear down that wall girl
Run away and don't look back
Breakdown that wall
Breakdown that wall
There's someone who needs you
Lady, it's your turn now
Just walk the streets with your head op high
Oh, baby doesn't that feel right
Put a big smile on your face, walk on straight
Yeah, tell the motherfuckers they were wrong
Isn't this your sweetest revenge?
Feels good he! I told you so
Cause every night has a day
Every wish has a prayer
Don't loose your faith
And I'll be holding your hand
Cause it's never too late
There's someone who needs you
So break down that wall, baby
There's a new world out there waiting
Just tear down that wall girl
Run away and don't look back
Breakdown that wall
Breakdown that wall
There's someone who needs you
baby
baby
oh
So, break down that wall, babe
Break down that wall babe
There's a new world out there
Tear down that wall babe
Run away, run away, run away
Breakdown that wall
Breakdown that wall
Cause I need you
