

Anouk, Dance With You

Sittin' on the beach, the island king of love, deep in fijian seas, deep in some blissful dream where the goddess finally sleeps, in the lap of her lover, subdued in all her rage and i'm aglow with the taste, of the demons driven out and happily replaced, with the presence of real love the only one who saves
i wanna dance with you, i see a world where people live and die with grace the karmic ocean dried up, and leave no trace
i wanna dance with you, i see a sky full of the stars that changed our minds and lead us back to a world we would not face the stillness in your eyes, convinces me that i, i don't know a thing,
and i've been around the world, and i've tasted all the winds, a half a billion times came sickened to your shores, you show me what this life is for
i wanna dance with you,
i see a world where people live and die with grace
i wanna dance with you,
i see a sky full of the stars that changed our minds,
and lead us back to a world we would not face in this altered state ...in this altered state. full of so much pain and rage, you know we got to find a way to let it go. to let it go.to let it go.to let it go.
sittin' on the beach, the island king of love, deep in fijian seas, deep in the heart of it all where the goddess finally sleeps, after eons of war, and lifetimes she's smilin' and free, nothin' left but a cracking voice and a song, oh lord
i wanna dance with you,
i see a world where people live and die with grace
i wanna dance with you,
i see a sky full of the stars that changed our minds
and lead us back to a world we would not face... we would not face...we would not face....
