Part Of The Game

Part Of The Game

yes you're right, I haven't found what I was looking for yes it's true, some of those guys may still ignore and they say that we are not a part of the family that we're unknown in the circles of high society but I don't care what they say and what they do and believe me I'll be there to guide you through

I'm still a part of the game I heard them calling my name yes I feel tired that's true but I will move on with you

I'm still a part of the game you know it's always the same yes sometimes I'm feeling blue but I still know what to do calling my name always the same

part of the game

yes you are right, I might be too old to reach my goal and yes it's true, sometimes I'm nearly losing control and they say that maybe we're just not good enough but still I'm here, my will is strong and my mind is tough

I don't care what they say and what they do
and believe me I'll be there to guide you through

I'm still... calling my name... even if we're not where we wanna be I don't care 'cause you are here with me and I know together we will rise coming up just like a big surprise I don't care what they all say, my friend 'cause this partnership will never end and even if we have to fight I know that we both can make it right

I'm still...
