

Anti-Flag, No Future

everything that i see
there is no future for me
everything that i read

no future we are taught from the day we're born a generation apathetic the youth are told your future is not to be forced on the world the salad days of revolution are inborn

we will break free

there is no future for me

no future a marketing genius franchise playing off the boredom of the disenfranchised you're just dregs of humanity you have no future purposely keepin' you thick and uninterested

there is no future for me
no future advertised
no future merchandised
everything that i see
there is no future for me

I KNOW... I KNOW... you cant change the future unless you change yourself its what you buy, not what they sell

the is no future for me
everything that i see
THE FUTURE BELONGS TO ME...
