

April Wine, Electric Jewels

April Wine

Electric Jewels

Electric Jewels

(myles goodwyn/jim clenck)

Published by summerlea music, ltd. - bmi

Ah, ah, ah, ah

You've been had by a fool, he's been all over you

And you've been seen in a dream, well i guess it's true

Now what you gonna do (ooh), and what you gonna say (hey)

The captain's heard the news (news), that someone has to pay (hey)

That someone has to pay

We've been down for awhile, and still we can't agree

Don't be mad, don't be sad, change is all we need

I'm beggin' you, if you please, it means so much to me

I'll beg you, if you please, it means so much to me

Now it's time to choose, no one has to lose

When it could be right, now maybe

There's some hope in sight, ooh, i hope i'm right

Electric jewels, in hands of fools, then throw it all at me

Here's my life, here's my dreams, now won't you set me free

I'm beggin' with you, please, it means so much to me

I'm beggin' with you, please, it means so much to me

Now it's time to choose, no one has to lose

When it could be right, now maybe

There's some hope in sight, ooh baby, ooh baby, ooh

Speaking in a dream, of a land he's never seen

And he says it's true, says he'd love to be with you

So listen while you can, and i'll tell you of a man

Who would sell the world, though it seems absurd, it's true

I'd do it for you