Apt 3g, White As A Sheet

Your battle - a war you gotta wage you're rattled by the crisises of this age you think everything would be alright if everybody you saw white intimidated by people different than you that must be reason you act the way you do you're wrong and that's the bottom line one day you're gonna hear your own battle cry why you gotta live round here why you gotta live why you gotta live round here in all actuality you're just a retrograde oddity you make me laugh, cause you'll never see it history, my friend, is passing you by and you don't even get it why you gotta live round me why you gotta live why you gotta live round me Jews control the world that's what's in Five Percenter's heads that's a mighty strange boat you're in hope you all know how to swim you're white as a sheet you're never giving it up you're white as a sheet you'll never get it back you're white as a sheet you're never giving it up you're white as a sheet get down and boogie.