&lt;/lyrics&gt;

You are what you are able to do, what you could have done with all your might Being earnest you can do what you should have done
So you taught a person who was alone that it was not, but again, its okay.
Being clumsy, being pure, as a person you cant do well.
Even how to use tears you dont know easily
My lovable friend will probably gradually become happy

There is only one important person
Clasping, they will try believing in the future
So when they do, it will be a better world because you can feel it

Round love, searching for love, a chance encounter
A parting world, also rare
Trouble, struggling, polish oneself
A glittering light to tomorrow, the road keeps going
After the evil play each scar is attempted to be understood
Inside of darkness, I think
I want to become one, I am not used to one
However I still want to become one

Those who watch growth
This difference prevents us from doing so
If you and I are separated
Love will be scribbled on that wall
Its bad mischief, but its okay.

There is only one important person
Clasping, they will try believing in the future
So when they do, it will be a better world that you can feel, as it should be so
You can feel it, dont you think? Surely
