Arch Enemy, Instinct

The more I see, the less I believe.
The more I hear, the less I care.
This world we've created has left me cold.
This world is sedated, dying in its sleep.

I feel nothing (I feel nothing) See it written in a thousand faces, The simple truth we fear. See it happen in a thousand places. Instinct, brought us here.

The more i see, the less i believe. The more i hear, the less i care. We used to be the chosen ones, Second to none. Left with what we've become, I laugh after these cares.....for life.

I feel nothing (I feel nothing) See it written in a thousand faces, The simple truth we fear. See it happen in a thousand places. Instinct, brought us here.

I can feel nothing, nothing at all, Except for the pain, that hits me again. I can feel nothing, nothing at all, Except for the pain, that hits me again.

I feel nothing (I feel nothing) See it written in a thousand faces, The simple truth we fear. See it happen in a thousand places. Instinct, brought us here.
