

Aretha Franklin, Evechanging Times

Aretha Franklin
What You See Is What You Sweat
Evechanging Times
w/duet (Michael McDonald)

These are ever changin times

I see the clock upon the wall
But it dont bother me at all
These are ever changin times

In these ever changin times
Everything is goin so much faster it seems like I Want you in my life, in everything I do
Wondering if the dreams that I believed in can still come true

Caught in between, it comes back to
You and me runnin out of time
Gotta find me a better understanding
Everyday keep forgetting whats mine
Gotta find me a way less demanding
And were holding on so tight together
All of our lives

And I, I had some big idea
So much of my life still not completed, hopes and fears
Watchin it change into somethin new Wonderin if Im gonna find the answer lovin you

All of my life it comes back to
You and me runnin out if time
Ive gotta find me a better understandin
Every day keep forgetting whats mine
I gotta find me a way less demanding
And were holding on so tight together
All of our lives

I see the clock upon the wall
But it dont bother me at all
These are ever changin times

I see the clock upon the wall
But it dont bother me at all
These are ever changin times

All of my life it comes back to
You and me runnin out if time
Ive gotta find me a better understandin
Every day keep forgetting whats mine
I gotta find me a way less demanding
And were holdin on so tight together
And were gonna be alright together
All of our lives

I see the clock upon the wall
But it dont bother me at all
These are ever changin times

I see the clock upon the wall
But it dont bother me at all
These are ever changin times {Ever changing, ever changing}

I see the clock upon the wall (I see the clock upon the wall)
But it dont bother me at all (But it dont bother me at all)

These are ever changin times (These are ever changin, ever changin times)

I see the clock upon the wall (The clock)

But it dont bother me at all (Just tickin away, tickin away, tickin away)

These are ever changin times (Ooh...hoo...hoo...hoo...hoo...hoo...)

I see the clock upon the wall (I see the clock upon the wall)

But it dont bother me at all {It dont bother me} (It dont bother me) {Oh}

These are ever changin times (It dont bother me, it dont bother me, no)

I see the clock upon the wall (Oh, yeah, uh-huh)

But it dont bother me at all (Oh, no)

These are ever changin times
