Armin Van Buuren, Unforgiveable

You use to light up the dark With your unrelenting spark

It always put a fire in me You use to say I'm the one

The only ray of sun you could touch without the fear of burning

Well you use to try to please me

Yeah you use to try to please me

Never said this would be easy

Never said this would be easy

Well now, you tell her now

While you hold her in your arms

Are you pretending shes me?

Just alone I go

Before you realize shes the one that you're going to lose anyway

You just got there now you're leaving

You just got there now you're leaving

Your sweet notes are deceiving

Your sweet notes are deceiving

Well it ain't over till its over and my world shuts down

But this comes close I'll have you know

Its just a matter of time

But it ain't over till its over but I won't be made a fool

'Cause leaving me the way you did was just so

Unforgivable [x6]
