

Armor For Sleep, Chemicals

The lights in your room keep on blinking off.
And I'm on my back, on your floor.
Tell me how you fooled the world again,
I like how you laugh when you tell it.

Play dead, cause I'll be playing dead with you.
I'll play you when you're dead in a year or two.

Can you please point me to your chemicals?
I need to feel like I've got rocks in my eyelids.
The only superhero I've ever known was you, about 5 years ago.
It was you about 5 years ago.

The lights outside turn into knives on me and I forget how to get home.
It only feels like it's the summer now,
cause everyone's always wearing the wrong clothes.

Play dead, cause I'll be playing dead with you.
I'll play you when you're dead in a year or two.

Can you please point me to your chemicals?
I need to feel like I've got rocks in my eyelids.
The only superhero I've ever known was you, about 5 years ago.
It was you about 5 years ago.

I can picture your coffin in the hallway;
And your family standing inside the doorway.
They'll point all their fingers at me and say,

Where are your drugs? Today we need them.
Where are your drugs? We need an escape.'
[x2]

Can you please point me to your chemicals?
I need to feel like I've got rocks in my eyelids.
The only superhero I've ever known was you,
about 5 years ago, was you about 5 years ago.

Where are your drugs? Today we need them.
Where are your drugs? We need your escape.
Where are your drugs? Today we need them.
Where are your drugs? We need your escape.
Where are your drugs? Today we need them
Where are your drugs?