

Armor For Sleep, Hold The Door

There's plenty of space for me
In the back of your car
I can move all your things around..
We're standing alone
On a side of the road
Till asire headlights catch me..

I keep to myself on the right
Trying hard to hide
All the dirt that covers me,
You only can hide who you are
If you don't care
Where you're going anyway

I don't wanna be
Who I was back then (I almost lost you again..)
I don't wanna see through the Eyes of a lion (hold the door for me..)

I set them on fire back then
They didn't know what hit them
It's always the ones
You never suspect
The ones who accept
What I've become.

I don't wanna be
Who I was back then (I almost lost you again..)
I don't wanna see through the Eyes of a lion (hold the door for me..)

I don't wanna be
Who I was back then (I almost lost you again)
I don't wanna see through the Eyes of a lion (hold the door for me)
(hold the door for me..)

Don't wanna take the wheels for you, just keep on driving, keep on driving...
Just tell me what you want me to do, just keep on driving, keep on driving...

I don't wanna be
Who I was back then (I almost lost you again)

I don't wanna be
Who I was back then (I almost lost you again)

I don't wanna be
Who I was back then (I almost lost you again)
I don't wanna see through the Eyes of a lion (hold the door for me)

I don't wanna be
Who I was back then (I almost lost you again)
I don't wanna see through the Eyes of a lion (hold the door for me)

I don't wanna be
Who I was back then (I almost lost you again)
I don't wanna see through the Eyes of a lion (hold the door for me)

Hold the door for me...
For me..