

Armor For Sleep, Run Right Back In

I've got soul working for me half the time, only when I'm half alive.
Thinking of someone else.
I saw you praying just to pray for me.
I felt something happening.
I was just falling asleep.

But thanks for your help, thanks for your help.
Pulling me from the flames, (and stop the fire)
I'll just wait til you leave, then run right back in.
I'll run right back in,
I'll run right back in,
I'll run right back in.

I've got plans mostly just to hang around, hoping for a hand me down.
Staring at my bright future.
I drive around waving like a sad parade, at the kids all out to play.
I'm good; go have fun on your own.

But thanks for your help, thanks for your help.
Pulling me from the flames, (and stop the fire)
I'll just wait til you leave, then run right back in.
I'll run right back in,
I'll run right back in,
I'll run right back in.

Can you see my room from there, burning, burning? [x4]

Pulling me from the flames, (can try to pull me out).
Pulling me from the flames, (can try to pull me out)
I'll run right back in, I'll run right back in, I'll run right back in.

Pulling me from the flames
Pulling me from the flames
Pulling me from the flames

I'll run right back in. [x5]
