Armored Saint, Nervous Man

The clouds roll in one by one And the shapes seem to spell out caution Many worries in my mind Without too many options I take a trip to soothe the pain And get away from the problem I'm near, sign reads clear It's plain inside your cranium

Look at the speed you ran You're just a nervous man Too much for your own hand Delirious Nomad

I find no end to this Paranoid, well, perhaps a bit But I am a spy Loneliest guy With no one to lean on

Look at the seed you plant Now you're a newborn man Pounding with your right hand Delirious Nomad
