

Article One, If The World Gives Up

I'm ready, now where am I supposed to go?
Tell me, is it very far away?
Cause everything this heart inside me knows
There's so much more than I could dream to be
Is there more I could become? / What's a life that's left undone?
So love come find me
Everything reminds me
Everywhere I'm lookin' for you
When I hold back
You can push back
Gotta bring back
The love
You define me, put it all behind me
Can't you see I'm falling for you
Tell me you will believe
If the world gives up on me

I'm searching, I know that there's a door beyond
A life with so much more than this
Could it be the best is never free
I'll find a way, it's going to take the all of me
Is there more I could become?
What's a life that's left undone?
If the world gives up on me
I know you'll be there
Cause I know you'll be there through it all
I'm becoming more like you
Yeah, you'll be there
You'll be there
If the world gives up
