

Ash, Sound Of Water

Just to hear the sound of water
Just to put the fire on ice
I am lying down in the shower
Oh mercy loosen the vice
Sometimes the sword is so heavy
My pain has a ravenous smile
In the pits of mine own making
Sometimes I dont think Ill ever get out
Oh, the world stoking the comas
Madmen making the news
Bent over like a beggar
I was saying its no use
This isnt a world for (urgent?) women
Unless you like swimming
Your own dark sea
These are times for urgent rhymes
But where the poetry?
The light
The light is hard to find
Youre walking blind
You only need to change your mind
Your mind
Wide awake and hope and think
I became a glittering queen
Every light in my direction
Was a bright, magnificent green
Adorned with invisible riches
I saw my stitches glowing so bright
No, the burden was not heavy
For the master it was night
But, the light
Light is hard to find
When youre walking blind
You only need to change your mind
You only need to change your mind
Your
When the light
The light is hard to find
When youre walking, walking blind
The light
The light is hard to find
When youre walking blind
You only need to change your mind
You only need to change your mind
Your mind
