

Ashton Allen, Better Than I Know

Short sighted self directed eyes
I judged a compromising life
Grew tired of everything I tried
It never satisfied cause
I know you know me
Better than I know myself its true
I know you love me
Even when I turn my back on you
You know each hair upon my head
You tell me where I should go instead
All my blue skies were turning gray
You turned my darkness into day
I know you know me
Better than I know myself its true
I know you love me
When I just can't love myself, you do
And every day is so brand new
In every way, in all I do
May it be pleasing to your eyes
I know you know me
Better than I know myself its true
I know you love me
When I just can't love myself, you do
You show, you show me
A new way to live my life for you
I know you know me
I know you know me
I know you know me