

Asia, Don't Come To Me

(Schwartz)

Walking down the avenue
Every step I take I see you
There's nothing more that I can do
To hold back from crying

It's not that I don't have the time
To hear your voice would only cost a dime
I'm gonna save myself a dime
And you know why

'Cos in the night, when you're alone
And there is no one you can turn to
As you're reaching for the phone

Don't come to me
I won't be there you see
You turned this heart to stone
Now you'll walk alone
So don't come to me

How did I get left this way?
I must have been born yesterday
Every single word you'd say
Were lies, lies, lies

Still walking down that avenue
Every step I take I see you
There's nothing more that I can do
To hold back from crying

Don't come to me
'Cos I won't be there you see
You turned this heart to stone
Now you'll walk alone
So don't come to me
