

Asia Minor, Northern Lights

Northern lights
Tears shedded in the evening twilight
A light wave
Fallen from the darkness of the night
Bright eyes
Lost in the agony of mankind
Raindrops in the desert
Where you are alone to fight
Your birth and presence
Are like their rising
Your death and absence
Are like their setting

Northern lights
Tears shedded in the evening twilight
A flock of birds
Flying softly like diamonds in the sky
Strange sounds
Echoing through the corridors of time
Secret of heaven
Through the mist deep in the dark
They are burning
In the poet's broken heart
Knowledge is in silence
Are lying beyond the night
