

Asia, Over And Over

If our only chance was in today
Let it lift us up above some way
As the evening shadows fall
I'll confide in you once more

Over, over and over again
We will resolve our true destiny
Only through Love, our passage guaranteed
Let it lift me up above

We are on a journey, to where we can't be sure
When we are as one, it opens every door
I don't want to take you across the great divide
This horizon's nearer, much easier to find

Let it lift me up above
