

Assorted Jellybeans, Another Way

i tried to be like you something that i couldn't do acted like life was a game deep down inside you know you're lame unlike you i meant what i say i live life another way another way
another way
i look for another way everyday is so damn lame another way, another way i looked for the answers in religion but it was a joke tried to talk to God
but i started to choke so many things wrong with this world i think i'll just have a coke nothing can be the same i know things always change but i can be myself which is better than anything else.
