

Astrud Gilberto, In Spite Of The Odds

Together
We're still together
Yes, we're together
In spite of the odds
Friends and lovers
from our past lives
Predicted bad times
They said that we shouldn't be

Together
And yet we're still going strong
We made right of everything that seemed wrong
Our love conquered 't all
From winter to fall
Together

Together
We've been through laughter and tears
And never, never gave in to our fears
We made our own rules
We fooled all the fools
Together...

So, here is a word of caution
To non-believers in the power of love
Love is full of disguises
Full of surprises
And, yes
We're still together
