

Ataris, Better way

Looking for a place to call my home
Where will I sleep tonight, even I dont know.
You ask yourself is this how I want to live?
When empty hands have nothing more to give.
So I drive around and pray that I will make it through today
Theres got to be a better way.
You miss your wife; you miss your little girl.
You left them stranded in a different world.
Can you forgive yourself for all the time youve lost?
I wouldnt give that up at any cost.
Theres more to life than being in a band,
Your friends are what will matter in the end.
I just want the chance to keep those promises I made
Theres got to be better way.
