

Ataris, Giving up on love

these past few weeks
I've been confused
sometimes I wonder if I'm better off alone.
you fall in love
then break your heart.
you fall in love again
its never ending.
I used to have this friend who took his fiance
to see billy idol
a couple weeks before
their wedding day.
the chick got backstage
and left my friend outside.
next day he called
from a hotel
asking for a ride.
I guess I'm giving up on love
'cause it really kind of sucks uninspired
and growing tired
why am I always
so attracted to drama?
so here I am
grown up at 23
will someone tell me
what it takes to be happy?
I play in my band
and write a lot of songs
about relationships
and how mine went wrong.
maybe I'll meet that special girl along the way
then she'll break my heart and leave me crying.
