

ATB, The Autumn Leaves

I look on the color of darkness Looked up into the television sky, tonight
I wandered through the city of aloneless Rain wouldn't stop
I couldn't dry my eyes, I cried

Who is the one to blame
Why is it that you never say when your feeling leaves
If you're through with me
As I'm walking through the rain, cold tears crawling down my face
like the autumn leaves,
on a windy day.

I went to the edge of town
Over by highways where the traffic was the only sound, around Why my eyes are looking at the ground
I could see pictures of you floating all around I didn't die

Who is the one to blame
Why is it that you never say when your feeling leaves
If you're through with me
As I'm walking through the rain,
cold tears crawling down my face
like the autumn leaves,
on a windy day*
