

Atom And His Package, You Took Me By Surprise you took em by surprise, you roll those crazy eyes, like the letter, the things inside your head

I can't make up my mind, you know that that's a lie I really have no decision to be amde

you took me by surprise
you took me by surprise

and then you amde me laugh and now I have a question, "did you have to do that?"
I feel so dumb inside, i'm tryign to decide but you'd never await my arrival

you took me by surprise
you took me by surprise

I lke to put myself, pretend i'm soneoen else someoen who could write better words than this:

you took me by surprise
you took me by surprise

you took me by surprise, you roll those crazy eyes,
like the letter, the things inside your head
I can't make up my mind, you know that that's a lie I really have no decision to be made walking in the park when everything went dark, I thought I saw your picture I the shadows but I wasnt that at all, in fact it was my car it was someone laughing making me feel small maybe I shuld explain, the best that I can but that would get me in trouble, maybe more than I could handle, I feel bad right now I know that i'm not lucky, so i'll keep my mouth shut and i'll just save it for anyone, and "what's that?" you might ask, and I will say, "i really don't know, I was just being dramatic like a television show" some day I will slip, and i'll say the wrong thing, and the credits will roll and reality will kick in and I say some day I will slip, and i'll say the wrong thing, and the credits will roll and reality will kick in