

Atomic Kitten, The Moment You Leave Me

You make me believe, you are the one for me (It seems)
That now I find it's hard
The way you're treating me (It's mean)

Cos' time after time I keep changing my mind
And I can't get myself over you
(hoohoo)

The moment you leave me
The moment you're gone
I don't think that I could last another minute
But when we're together, there's something so strong
And I don't think that we will ever find a limit
(It's going on, it's going on, it's going on)

Each time you looked down I helped you on your feet (but then)
Just as soon as you were ready to
You left me on my own again

Cos' time after time I keep changing my mind
And I can't get myself over you
(hoohoo)

The moment you leave me
The moment you're gone
I don't think that I could last another minute
But when we're together, there's something so strong
And I don't think that we will ever find a limit
(It's going on, it's going on, it's going on)

When you lie that you love me and small promises you couldn't keep
How I try to believe you but my tears they just cut so deep
And I can't get myself over you
(hoohoo)(yeah)

The moment you leave me
The moment you're gone
I don't think that I could last another minute
But when we're together, there's something so strong
And I don't think that we will ever find a limit
