

Atomic Potato, George Washington

(Chorus)

George Washington!
Took the words from my mouth!
Stolen! I lost again!
My disguise in the fight!

It might've took a while but you found a way to get away
The way I thought you'd say "It's like a cheap way to imitate"
Another day goes by and you've still got no place to call your home
And I won't save you!
Hide all the time, and you contemplate suicide
And nobody is gonna take blame for evil thoughts on your mind.

I can't think straight!
Don't push it in my face!

(Chorus)

Eight years have passed the things you said were true...
I'd try to laugh again but your words stuck like glue.
Gimme a drug so I can think of someone else.
And I won't save you!
Lie to get by, and you save your ass just in time
'Til the shit hits the fan and you're caught on the scene of the crime.

I can't think straight!
Don't push it in my face!

(Chorus 2x)
