

Atreyu, Bleeding Hearts Shed No Tears

After all that has transpired after all that's taken place after all the stab wounds and just just before my death i rise phoenix like a new from the still burning ashes of false hearts lies to fly once again to shine from within dismember myself

sever my veins
poison myself
a heartless joke
slash at my neck
gouge out my eyes
screaming in agony
you pacify me.

bleeding hearts shed no tears soaked all the way through with remorse and regret fire to purify my soul and blood to replenish it i search in hopes of completion to justify my love for you nothing ever ends where our souls begin nothing can save me from myself you keep me safe

resurrecting my love
an angel like you
can never fall
heaven i found
right in my arms

i found love in you
i find truth in you
i see light in you
and it horrifies me
